

Dear Friend,

I am writing to invite you to support UCP of Central Florida's 19th Annual Gala, An Evening at the Palace, on Saturday, March 10, 2012. The event attracts approximately 800 of Central Florida's community and business leaders and takes place at the beautiful Buena Vista Palace Hotel & Spa. This year's event promises to be especially exciting as Dan Aykroyd and Cheryl Hines have graciously agreed to be our celebrity hosts. In addition, one of the highly acclaimed features of the event is our silent auction. With support from businesses and individuals like you, the auction generates dollars for UCP that further support our mission of providing the best support, education and therapy, offering hope to everyone touched by a disability.

Please consider donating an item to be featured in our auction at this year's event. In exchange for your generous contribution, you would receive the following:

- The opportunity to showcase your company to an elite group of over 800 people with customized signage in the auction room showcasing your company and/or item.
- Name recognition on UCP's gala website in the time leading up to the event.
- A listing in the evening's auction guide.
- An IRS tax deduction for the value of your contribution.
- The benefit of knowing that your generosity has a direct impact on the lives of over 2,400 children with and without special needs who are receiving support, education and therapy services at UCP of Central Florida.

Please find attached an auction donation form. If you are able to make a donation to our silent auction, please return the form and/or item to me before February 27, 2012. If you have any questions or comments, please call me at (407) 852-3332 or email afrascati@ucpcf.org. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration. We look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Alicia Frascati

AN EVENING AT

THE PALACE

March 10, 2012

Presented by Premier Beverage

Thank you for your generous contribution to An Evening at the Palace, UCP of Central Florida's 19th Annual Gala. Your contribution will help raise much needed dollars for over 2,400 children with and without disabilities and their families in the Central Florida community. At UCP of Central Florida, we provide support, education and therapy services to children with and without disabilities ages birth through 21.

This year's Gala and silent auction is scheduled for Saturday, March 10, 2012 at the Buena Vista Palace Hotel & Spa in the Walt Disney World Resort. Dan Aykroyd and Cheryl Hines will be hosting this prestigious event, consistently rated as one of the top Orlando charity events.

In return for your contribution of an item for our silent auction, your business will be showcased on auction signage created especially for your item. We will highlight your item/company on our website and you will be included in the auction program that will reach more than 800 guests at the event. Please return this form to UCP of Central Florida at the contact information below before February 27, 2012 in order to be included in these promotional opportunities.

Any donated items received after this date may be used for other special events held throughout the year. Thank you so much for your support!
